

Programs: Community events this month included:

- Police Department held a recruit test this month. Out of 16 initial participants, 14 passed the physical fitness, and 13 went on to pass the written examination.
- The Police Department worked in collaboration with Fraternal Order of Police Lodge 55 in the annual “Cops and Kids” event. We were able to take 20 fifth grade students shopping this year from the Erlanger/Elsmere schools
- E-Angel program was also able to support the “Cops and Kids” event with coverage for small overages in the shopping budgets for each kid so they could get necessities (coats/hats/gloves) and gifts for their families and themselves
- Cocoa with a Cop was held this month

Training:

- The training coordinator is preparing for the annual review and testing for the police department for Response to Resistance/Use of Force training. This will include policy review/updates, simulation training, and written testing. Erlanger will also be able to assist in training other local police agencies in the simulation training.

Investigations/Case Highlights:

- Investigation received an initial complaint from a resident of a juvenile being contacted for the purposes of being enticed to engage in a sexual performance. The investigation lead to the discovery of hundreds of juvenile victims from Kentucky, Ohio, and Indiana. In partnership with the Department of Homeland Security Steven R. Stiles Jr., age: 34, was charged in the U.S. District Court of Eastern Kentucky with promoting a sexual performance by a minor and if convicted, is facing several decades in prison.
