

March 2025

ADMINISTRATION MONTHLY REPORT

Historic Depot Museum

Sab has been busy preserving military uniforms, as well as other historic artifacts. Displayed at this time are WWII military uniforms worn by Erlanger residents Russell McClure, Albert Wind Jr., and Jim Townes. The WWII display includes other items such as ration books. A leather coat worn by Henry Carter is on display as well. He wore this coat when he came to the United States after being liberated from a Nazi conservation camp. Mr. Carter was the longtime Erlanger business owner of the Dixie Dry Goods store.

Starting in March, we will be working with Mark Collier on community story videos that can be viewed at the Museum. A special thank you to our Public Works Department's sign shop for the Museum's gallery signs.
