ADMINISTRATION MONTHLY REPORT

Making an Impact

The young visitor in this picture sat for a while, gazing at Russell McClure's photograph and uniform. His eyes were full of curiosity as he asked who Mr. McClure was and what he had done. At such a young age, he already wanted to learn about a man who made a lasting difference in the Erlanger community. A man no longer with us, yet still remembered and honored today.

Mr. McClure grew up in Erlanger and graduated from Lloyd High School before serving his country in WWII. During his time in the service, he met his future wife, Mary, at a USO dance. After the war, the couple returned to Erlanger, where they raised their family and remained active in the community. A proud resident, Mr. McClure dedicated many years to serving on the Erlanger City Council. Following his passing in 1991, the City honored his legacy by naming a street after him, Russell McClure Drive.

Unbeknownst to his family, Mr. McClure's daughter and grandchildren also visited the Museum. It was a delightful surprise for them to see his uniform on display and to read his story, a touching reminder of his lasting impact on both his family and the community he loved.
